Battery Tech Expo France

The Future of Battery Manufacturing

3 March 2027 | Lille Grand Palais, Lille

Battery Tech Expo

Connecting the battery manufacturing ecosystem

Located in the heart of France's Battery Valley, Battery Tech Expo France connects the companies, technologies and decision-makers advancing battery manufacturing across north-west Europe. From materials and cell production to gigafactory engineering, automation, quality and recycling, the event brings together manufacturers and suppliers to explore solutions, develop partnerships and identify new business opportunities.

Reasons to exhibit

Battery Tech Expo France offers a focused platform for companies supplying Europe's expanding battery manufacturing sector. With flexible exhibiting, partnership and sponsorship opportunities, businesses can showcase their expertise, connect with manufacturers and technology buyers, and strengthen their presence across France and neighbouring European markets.

Reach key decision-makers

Connect with battery manufacturers, automotive OEMs, production engineers and purchasing professionals involved in battery manufacturing and industrial-scale production.

Generate new business

Meet potential customers and supply chain partners across France's Battery Valley and neighbouring European markets, identifying new projects and supply opportunities.

Increase brand visibility

Position your business within one of Europe's key battery manufacturing regions, supported by targeted event promotion and exposure through Battery Tech Insider.
