SPATEX 2022 – a must-attend show for all schools

Teach a child to swim and you've taught a lesson in how to save a life. No longer the preserve of the independent sector, swimming pools are an increasingly important feature in the wider educational environment. Whether your school is considering installing or refurbishing, a visit to the UK's only dedicated water leisure exhibition, SPATEX 2022, is the starting point and will pay dividends

Held at the Coventry Building Society Arena from Tuesday 1st to Thursday 3rd February, SPATEX 2022 is the UK's ONLY dedicated water leisure exhibition, designed for those involved in the provision and maintenance of swimming pools and wet leisure facilities. In what is a fast-moving, highly innovative market, keep abreast of all the latest energy saving water leisure developments for efficient management.

With over a hundred companies, drawn from around the world, there's no better showcase and SPATEX 2022 has made energy saving the cornerstone of its agenda. Products harnessing renewable technology offer time-saving advances for the pool manager and put significantly less strain on the school purse.

What can you expect to see? Everything under the water leisure umbrella! For instance, new generation heat pumps and the latest heat retention covers can literally save a fortune. Enclosures, water circulating pumps, chemical dosing systems – all have undergone big technological advances in the last few years.

Talks in the show's free-to-attend, three-day double seminar and workshop programme will focus on how to become more eco-aware and save money. Industry figureheads will also provide a working knowledge of the latest health and safety legislation and guidance.

STA (Swimming Teachers' Association) is giving four seminars on the Tuesday morning of the show. As one of the world's largest swim teaching and lifesaving organisations, it delivers the highest quality training across four key business areas - Swimming Teaching, Lifesaving, First Aid and Leisure Management.

With the world's top water leisure experts on hand, access free advice for your own school pool or future project. Come to the SPATEX Help Desk at the entrance to be pointed in the right direction.
