Welcome Message

Dear Industry Colleagues,

On behalf of the Organising Committee, we are delighted to invite you to the SPE Symposium: Asia Pacific Sustainable Facilities Decommissioning, taking place on 1-2 December 2026 in Bandar Seri Begawan, Brunei.

As ageing energy infrastructure across Asia Pacific approaches end of life, sustainable decommissioning has become an increasingly important industry priority. Offshore platforms, onshore processing facilities, subsea systems, and associated infrastructure present both operational challenges and opportunities to advance safer, more efficient, and environmentally responsible asset retirement practices.

Asia Pacific is uniquely positioned at the centre of this transition. With its diverse asset portfolio, evolving regulatory landscape, and technically complex operating environments, the region continues to drive collaboration and innovation in decommissioning strategies. Industry stakeholders are increasingly leveraging digital technologies, integrated project planning, and cross-sector expertise to improve execution efficiency, strengthen environmental stewardship, and optimise long-term project outcomes.

The symposium is a premier platform for operators, regulators, service and technology providers, and subject matter experts to exchange insights, share practical experiences, and explore forward-looking solutions shaping the future of decommissioning in the region.

In addition to a comprehensive and technical programme, the event offers valuable opportunities to strengthen industry connections, elevate brand visibility, and engage directly with decision-makers and technical professionals involved in the planning and execution of decommissioning projects across Asia Pacific.

We warmly invite you and your organisation to participate as a sponsor and exhibitor, and to showcase your thought leadership, solutions, and services at the symposium at this important industry event.

SPE is a not for profit association with the mission to collect, disseminate and exchange technical knowledge on the exploration, development, and production of oil, gas, and related energy resources. Income from this event is reinvested into the industry through SPE's development and education programmes, benefiting both energy professionals and students.

We look forward to your participation at this symposium in Bandar Seri Begawan, Brunei!

A premier platform for shaping the next phase of asset retirement in the region

Designed for operators, regulators, service and technology providers, and technical specialists, the symposium will address the practical and commercial realities of decommissioning across offshore, subsea, and onshore facilities. Key discussions will focus on emerging technologies, integrated project delivery, regulatory alignment, cost optimisation, environmental performance, and risk management in increasingly complex operating environments.

participants from 20+ countries

50+
industry leading and technical expert speakers

15+
hours of plenary, panel,
technical, and ePoster
discussions

6+
hours of networking opportunities

Exhibit showcase featuring innovative decommissioning solutions

As decommissioning activity accelerates across the Asia Pacific, the need for regional collaboration, technical capability development, and innovative solutions continues to grow. This symposium provides a focused platform to position expertise and technologies, engage directly with industry decision-makers, and build strategic connections with stakeholders involved in decommissioning projects.
