Integrated Carbonate Reservoir Development and Management

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

INTEGRATED CARBONATE RESERVOIR DEVELOPMENT AND MANAGEMENT

25-26 NOVEMBER 2025 | KUCHING, SARAWAK, MALAYSIA

About the Workshop

Integrated Carbonate Reservoir Development and Management

Carbonate reservoirs are among the most prolific hydrocarbon systems worldwide and can be among the most difficult to develop. Heterogeneity, complex pore systems, karst, and natural fracturing create uncertainty at every scale from pore to platform to field development plan. These challenges are compounded by mature gas fields approaching cessation of production, some with high contaminants such as CO₂ or H₂S content, the requirement to produce with lower carbon emissions, and growing pressure to convert depleted carbonate reservoirs for carbon capture and storage.

This workshop brings together geoscientists, petrophysicists, reservoir engineers, drilling engineers, surface engineers, and field development planners to examine how integrated workflows for development and management perform against real field problems. Sessions are built around case studies and open discussion rather than formal presentation, focusing on what worked, what failed, and what practitioners would do differently.

MASTER

integrated workflows to overcome the complexities of carbonate reservoir development.

UNLOCK

Sponsorship Opportunities

Sponsorship support of the event helps offset the cost of producing workshops and allows SPE to keep the attendance price within reach of operation level-individuals, those who benefit most from these technical workshops.

Sponsors benefit both directly and indirectly by having their names associated with a specific workshop. While SPE prohibits any type of commercialism within the workshop room itself, the Society recognises that sponsoring companies offer valuable information to attendees outside the technical sessions.

Who We Are

SPE is the largest individual member organisation serving managers, engineers, scientists and other professionals worldwide in the upstream segment of the oil and gas industry.

The Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) is a not-for-profit organisation dedicated to advancing the energy industry and empowering professionals. Revenue from this event supports SPE initiatives that drive professional growth, foster community, and deliver innovative solutions. By attending, sponsoring, or exhibiting at an SPE event, you help fund impactful programmes such as JPT, certification, the Distinguished Lecturer Programme, and Energy4me®, our energy education initiative. Together, we are advancing careers, building connections, and shaping the future of energy.
