About Islandcraft

Islandcraft was set up over a decade ago offering a collection of Scottish Celtic gifts with a strong handcrafted emphasis. Our designers draw their inspiration from the rich Celtic heritage and mythology of Scotland - creating gifts in ceramics, carved wood, hand painted stained glass, bronze-plated sculptures and embroidery.

The riches of Scotland's Celtic past are evident everywhere today - ruins of 12th century Norman castles, 8th century illuminated manuscripts with stunning interlacing and highly ornate stone crosses marking the locations of ancient religious sites. Islandcraft interprets the emblems of Scotland that symbolise its rich and colourful past - including the thistle, the lion rampant, the bagpiper and the high cross.

Highland Cow Bauble

The technique used in making this bauble is called 'découpage'.

This is the Victorian craft of cutting out motifs from paper, applying them to a surface and covering with as many layers of varnish as is required to give a completely smooth finish.

Highland Cow Tea

Edinburgh Tea & Coffee Company's breakfast tea is blended to suit soft Scottish waters. This lively tea has enough depth and strength to start the day, being perfectly balanced with a long and pleasant aftertaste.

In Collectible Tins
