Our parent company, Target Dry first opened its doors over 30 years ago. It soon built a reputation for producing high quality waterproof clothing. Now three decades on, we are proud to carry that same craftsmanship and understanding into our Lighthouse range.

We use a variety of different performance fabrics within our collection. The majority of which are waterproof, have fully taped seams and superb breathability.

We have developed our very own range of waterproof and breathable fabrics, made to keep you dry and comfortable no matter what the weather has in store.
