Babywear

Hello there!

Thanks so much for your interest in my babywear range.

My debut baby wear collection features my original illustrations of Molly the hare, Olive the owl and Dexter the fox along with snippets of their story. We have printed the characters in beautiful detail across eye-catching baby grows, practical tops and joggers and wonderfully cosy hooded wrap blankets. All of the items in the range make perfect gifts for newborns and toddlers alike.

I created this trio of special friends to delight little ones and their families. They live in a charming, carefree world and every garment in the collection arrives with a tiny story booklet as an introduction to the fun and friendship that they enjoy together.

I am pleased to support the amazing work at Read for Good through this babywear range. Read for Good is a national charity that brings the magic of books and storytelling to disadvantaged children in hospitals, schools and communities across the UK.

As always you can find all ordering details on the back page.

Love,

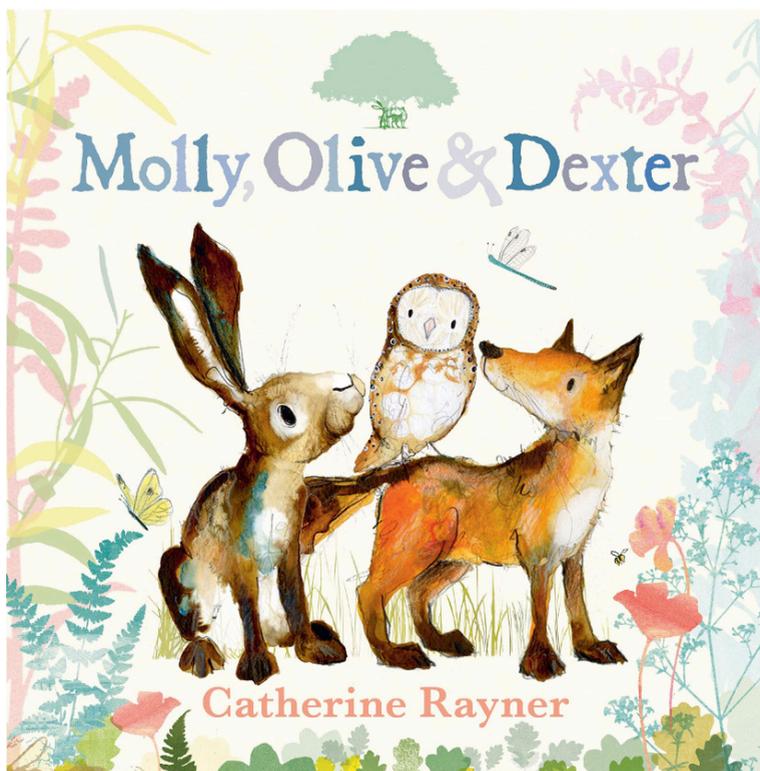

Catherine Paige

A small, colorful illustration of a bird, possibly a parrot or a similar species, with a long, multi-feathered tail. The bird is perched on the letter 'e' of the signature 'Catherine Paige'. The bird has a green body, a purple head, and a red beak. The signature is written in a cursive, black ink style.
