

“High fibre wholegrain oats, fresh Orkney island water, traditional baking skills & a belief in sustainability make our oatcakes special”.

Keys to our success

- Pride in our heritage: Orkney based, 4th generation family-owned business with loyal and long serving employees, many with over 25 years’ service and some over 40 years.
- Careful sourcing: All our oatcakes are hand baked with slow energy releasing wholegrain oats, are naturally high in/a source of fibre, contain no artificial flavours or colours, are suitable for vegetarians, with many vegan approved.
- Quality: Great tasting products that arrive in good condition, a focus on quality (BRCGSAA+) & attention to service levels, all help us build close relationships with our customers.
- Trust: Minimal process & packaging ethos, a waste reduction plan, FSC cases and recyclable film.
- Our range: Triangles / Minis / Orkney Heritage/ Private Label & Food Service
- Award winning:
 - 2022 Great British Food Award Finalist – both Orkney Heritage products

A little background

- As one of the leading Scottish oatcake brands, we are particularly famous for our triangle shaped range. The shape dates back centuries to when oats and water would be mixed together, the dough rolled out thinly like a pancake, cooked on a round griddle over an open fire and then quartered.
- Traditionally oatcakes were eaten instead of bread with soup or stew. Today they complement any cheeseboard and are very popular with pâté, smoked salmon, peanut butter and jam.

Orkney Heritage

- This new range is designed to sit alongside our existing traditional Scottish oatcakes, building on values of great taste, heritage, quality & healthy choice.
- Ancient grains, wholegrain oats and rapeseed oil, with a new grooved triangle design (an indentation allowing each oatcake to split neatly into 2 smaller triangles).
- The fertile lands of the Orkney Islands have seen crops grown for thousands of years so we have chosen spelt and bere as a nod to our rich heritage of baking.
