THE STORY

Aether - historically believed to fill the upper heavens and mediate light and phenomena

Nox - both the Latin word for night and the mythological figure representing night

I, Jason, began my career working in finance but soon needed a creative outlet. In 2021, I began designing pieces for the women in my life who sought out lightweight, affordable, and inclusive jewellery.

Through local makers markets in my homestead of West Yorkshire, it quickly emerged there was a wider appetite for my unique mix of eye-catching stone-inspired and ethereal designs, thus Aether & Nox was born.

Between earrings, pendants, bracelets, and rings, Aether & Nox now offers an almost endless range of unique pieces created with familiar geometric shapes paired with earthy and ethereal-inspired colours.

The Aether & Nox mission is to provide inclusive and inspiring small-batch jewellery without compromising on quality or comfort.

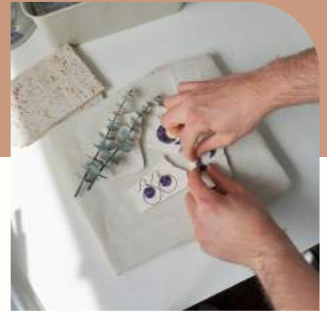

With Aether & Nox, you can experience eye-catching and elegant designs that are a pleasure to wear and to be seen, matching all the natural beauty around us and enhancing that within us.

THE MISSION

Inspired by the natural and ethereal aspects of our world, I combine vegan-friendly polymer clay with various inks and pigment powders to craft a unique aesthetic comparable to semi-precious stones. Adorned with stainless steel fixings to ensure a true premium feel free from tarnish.

Due to the small batch production method, each piece is technically unique in its construction and can therefore be as special as its owner. By not using genuine semi-precious stones, the result is friendlier to the environment, more lightweight for the wearer, and less likely to chip if dropped.

Inclusive : As an LGBTQ owned business, I celebrate what makes us different and believe the products can enhance the natural beauty we all possess.

Transparent : Being open and honest with people is a crucial part of building and sustaining relationships. This is reflected in reasonable pricing and openness around the production process. Everything that makes its way out of the workshop is completed to a high standard to ensure that each piece can live up to its new owner's expectations.

People-first: Community is at the heart of the business. Establishing the business through market trading has reinforced the importance of people and the connection that can be found through kindness. These interpersonal relationships are a key driver for me, whether in business or retail customers.

Pro-active: The mindset that there is always room for improvement and avoiding complacency is at the heart of the business. Through market trading, face-to-face discussions allow for instant feedback and preferences to be shared which translates to product development with new colours and styles explored and rolled out quickly.

BEST SELLERS

Hook Hoop

As one of our original designs, this has also been one of our most popular. The classic pairing of the round elements with a mid-length drop means it can be worn by just about anyone!

Stud Bar Maxi

Another original design, the stud bar maxi is always commended as one of the more intriguing designs. Larger in size it's really a great statement piece.

Stud Hoop

Born out of a request for 'smaller' earrings in 2023, the Stud Hoop has come one of the fan favourites by all age groups. Classic and timeless.

BEST SELLERS

Small pendant

Premiering this year as an experiment against the originally sized pendant, this more demure option has proven very popular with younger demographics.

Charm Stud

One of the most popular offerings since the early days is also one of the most unique. Endless combinations with a choice of charms including stars, boho eyes, suns, moons, and lightning bolts! Popular across the board!

Small Ring

A favourite among the younger demographics for its striking simplicity and certain unisex appeal. The adjustable band meaning almost any finger size can be blessed with the beauty!

EARRINGS

Crafted with exquisite attention to detail, these little works of art are a more subtle but equally impactful way to add a small pop of colour to your ears. As always, all items are made from the unique polymer clay mix, and stainless steel fixings.

STUD CRYSTAL

PRODUCT CODE: STUD/CRYSTAL

PRICE: £6.40 // RRP £16

A recent rising star among the styles is the stud crystal. This is beloved across ages and appreciated for its small and slender form.
