ABOUT US

The story of our family's knitwear tradition began during the war, when a postman in a small village on the outskirts of Leicestershire delivered more than just mail. Recognizing the needs of families enduring harsh winter months, he started offering classic British wool knitwear alongside his postal duties.

As time went on, his passion for quality knitwear grew. Eventually, he expanded his production, crafting a range of traditional designs using pure British wool. These timeless pieces found their way to high street retailers, many of which continue to thrive today.

At J.M. Cooper Knitwear, we proudly carry forward this legacy. Our collection features a full range of knitwear for women, men, and children, along with a variety of accessories. Every piece is made from 100% British wool, crafted with care in our factory located in Barwell, Leicestershire—right in the heart of the UK.
