About us

Jewellery designed to feel like you. Handcrafted in Yorkshire, Aether & Nox is all about ethereal-inspired jewellery with a playful, modern edge. Each piece is crafted by designer Jason using lightweight polymer clay and resin; bold, expressive, and easy to wear every day.

Note from the founder

I'm Jason, the maker behind Aether & Nox. After a career in finance, I started creating lightweight, affordable jewellery for the women in my life.

What began at local makers markets in West Yorkshire grew into a brand known for its unique blend of stone-inspired and ethereal designs.

Today, Aether & Nox offers a wide range of jewellery, all designed to be inclusive, comfortable, and full of character; pieces that reflect natural beauty and let you express your own.

I can't wait for you to really get a feel for the Aether & Nox essence throughout this brochure.

Our ethos

Jewellery with soul, made to feel like yours

At Aether & Nox, we believe jewellery should reflect you; your style, your mood, your uniqueness. Everything we make is designed with that in mind. Here's what matters to us:

Handcrafted in Yorkshire

Every piece is crafted by hand using lightweight vegan polymer clay; crafted in small-batches, with care and attention to detail.

Earthy meets ethereal

We take inspiration from natural textures and celestial shapes, blending grounded tones with dreamlike touches to create something playful, wearable and unique.

Low waste, good vibes

We aim to keep things sustainable with low waste production, plastic free packaging and materials that are durable and kinder to the environment.

.Inclusive by design

As an LGBTQ owned business, inclusivity is at the heart of what we do. We celebrate individuality and offer a wide range of colours, styles and prices so everyone can find something that feels like them.

Why Stock Us?

Your customers deserve jewellery as unique as they are, and stocking Aether & Nox means offering just that, plus perks that make your life easier.

Plenty of choice

From tiny studs to statement rings, moons to maximalism, we have a huge variety of styles and colours to suit every taste.

Quick turnaround

We work in small batches but keep lead times tight, so you can reorder fast and keep your shelves fresh.

Accessible price points

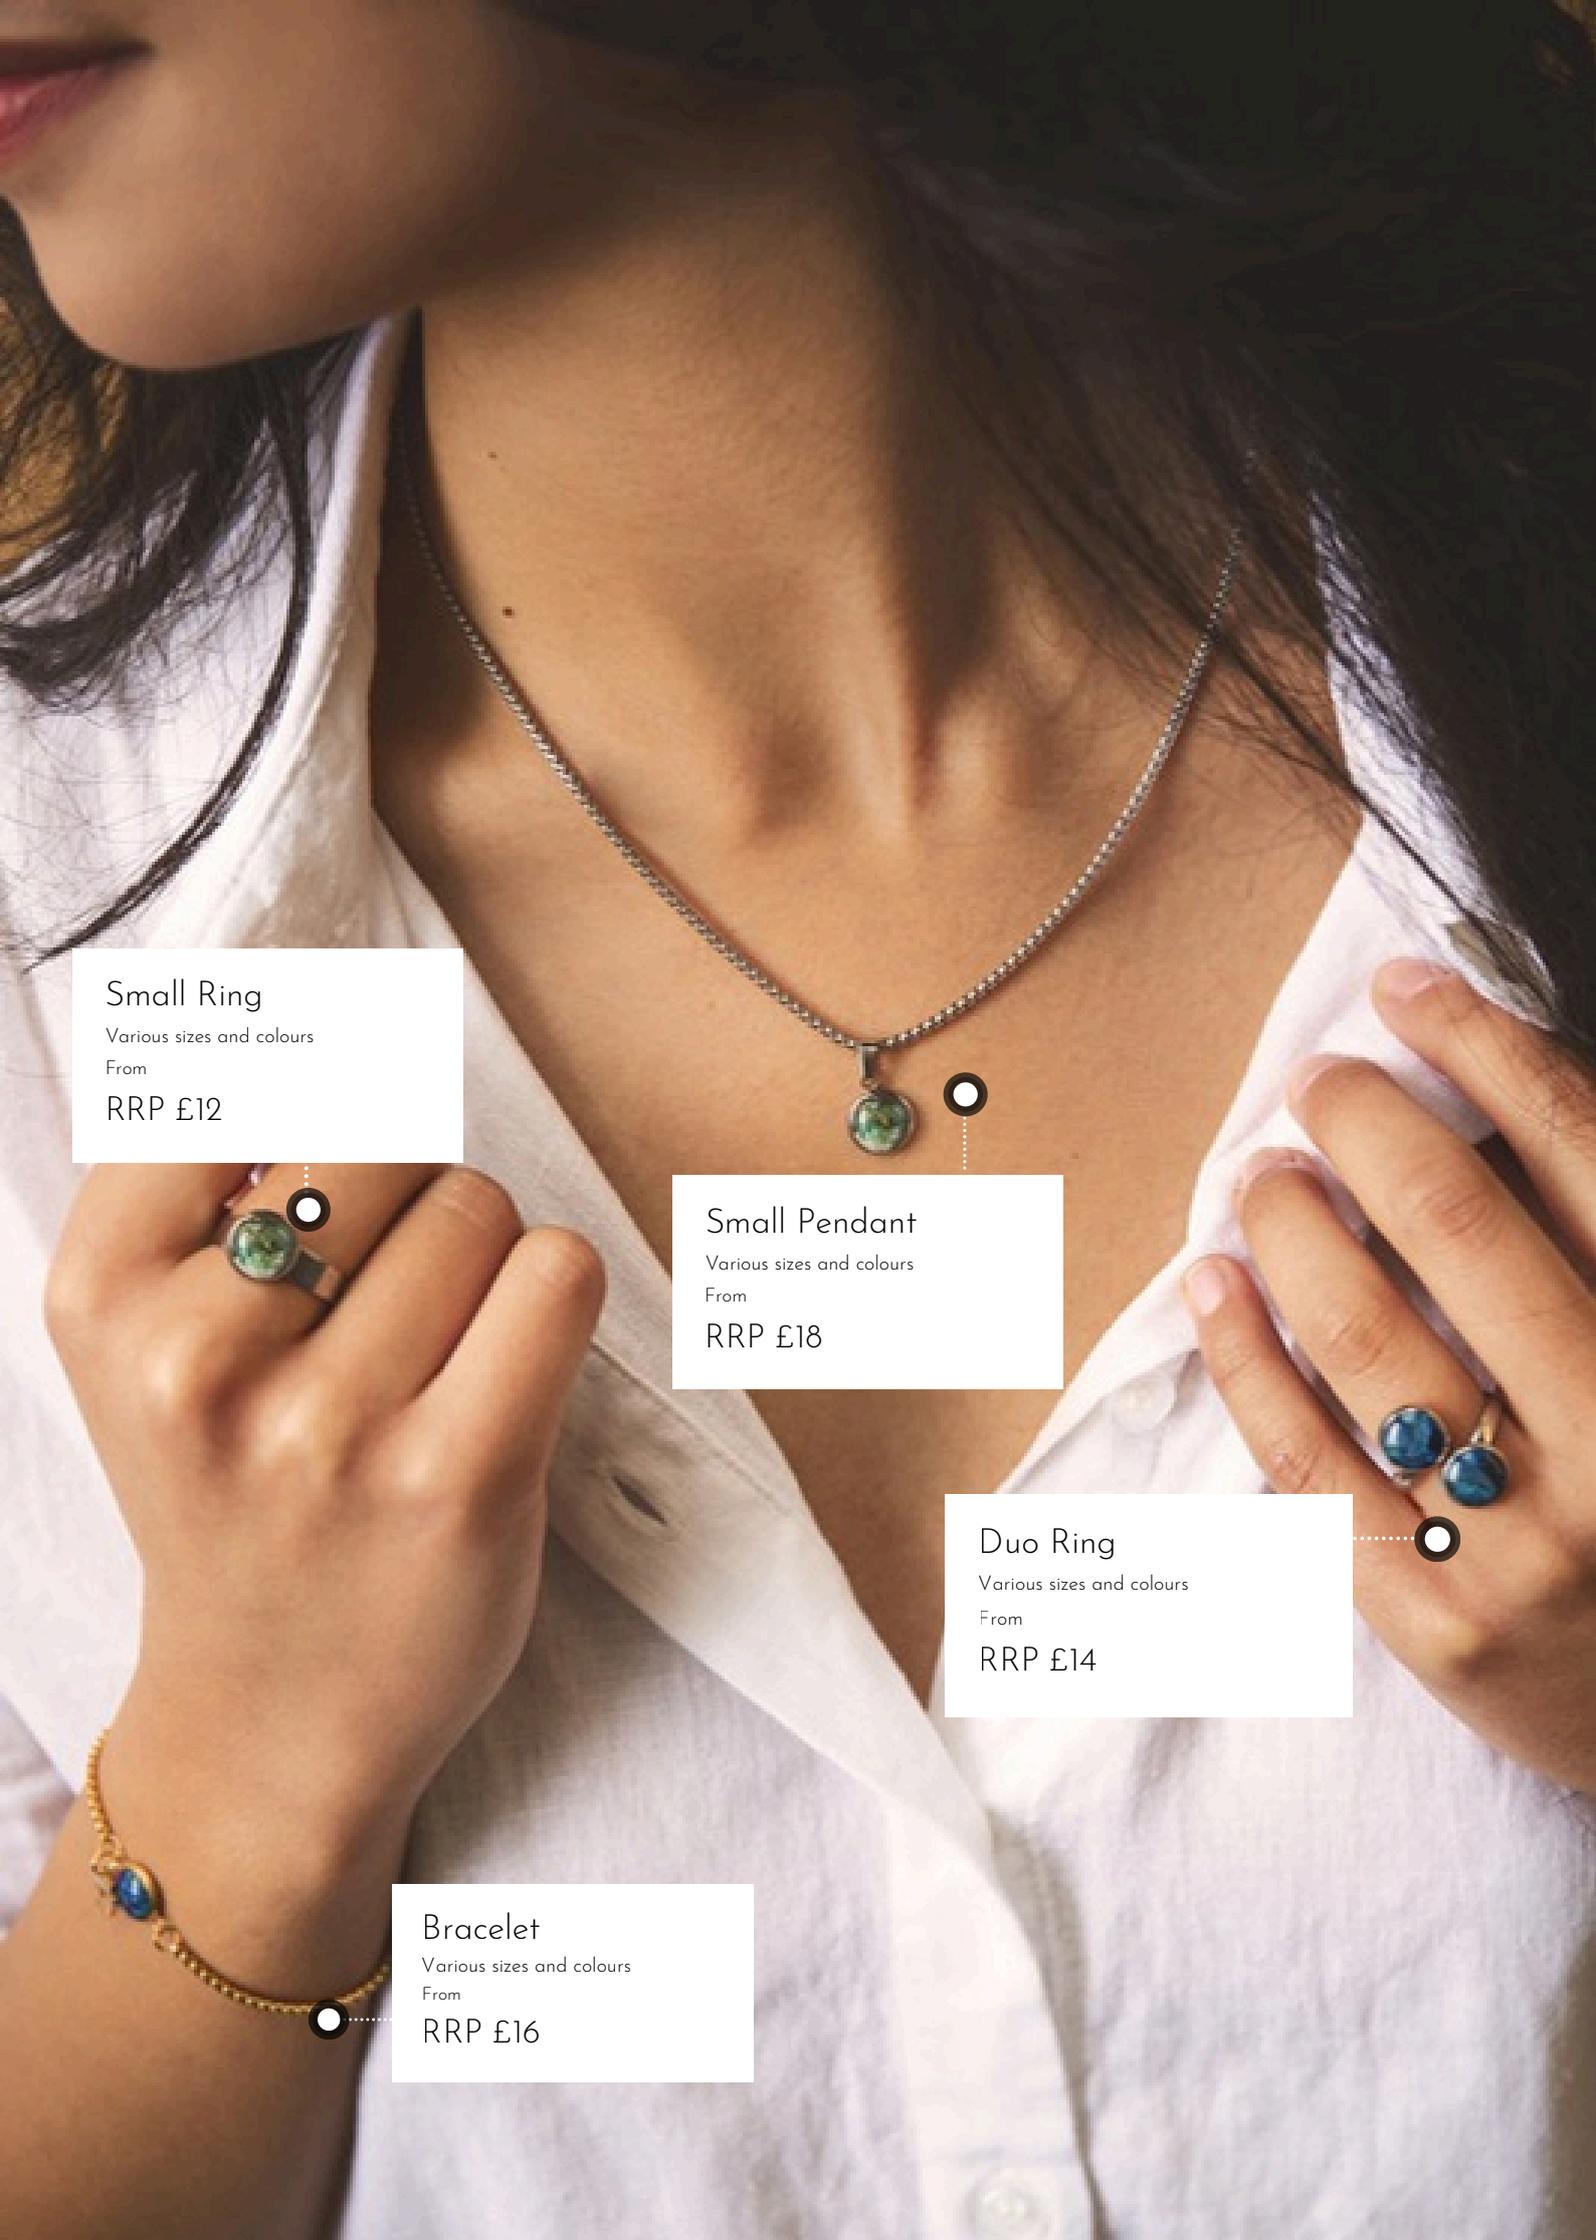

Our prices let your customers treat themselves often, without breaking the bank.

Thoughtful packaging

Plastic free, sustainable and designed to look great on display; no boring boxes here.

Easy ordering and support

Reordering is simple, we answer your questions quickly, and we love working with independent stockists like you

Seasonality & Collections

Our collections are designed with the seasons in mind: from earthy tones for autumn to brighter, lighter styles for summer. Many pieces are limited-run, so we always recommend planning ahead, especially around peak gifting seasons.

When we launch

- New collections drop twice a year, typically in Spring/Summer and Autumn/Winter
- Smaller capsule edits and seasonal refreshes may be released throughout the year

Key moments

- Valentine's: think soft pinks, hearts and everyday romantic pieces
- Mother's Day: delicate, wearable designs with wide appeal
- Christmas: bold bestsellers, gift-ready sets and statement styles
- Spring & Summer: lighter colours, nature-inspired palettes
- Autumn & Winter: deeper tones, shimmer finishes, and layering-friendly styles

Need help choosing pieces to suit the season? Just drop us a message, we're always happy to guide you.

How to order

We like to keep things simple. Whether it is your first order or just a quick top up, here is how it works:

Minimum order

£100 for all direct orders
£150 for all website orders

Lead time

Orders are usually ready in one to two weeks. If it is likely to take longer, we will always let you know in advance.

Payment

Payment is due before dispatch on first orders. Trade accounts may be offered payment terms by request. Website orders require payment upon order by default.

Delivery

All orders are dispatched with Tracked24 delivery. Free shipping over £150. Below this, a default £10 delivery charge is applied.

Reordering

You can place reorders through our website, Faire or by email. We will confirm everything with you before we begin making.

Pricing + Partnership

We like to keep things fair, clear and easy. Our pricing is straightforward, and we offer thoughtful extras to support long-term partnerships.

Wholesale Pricing

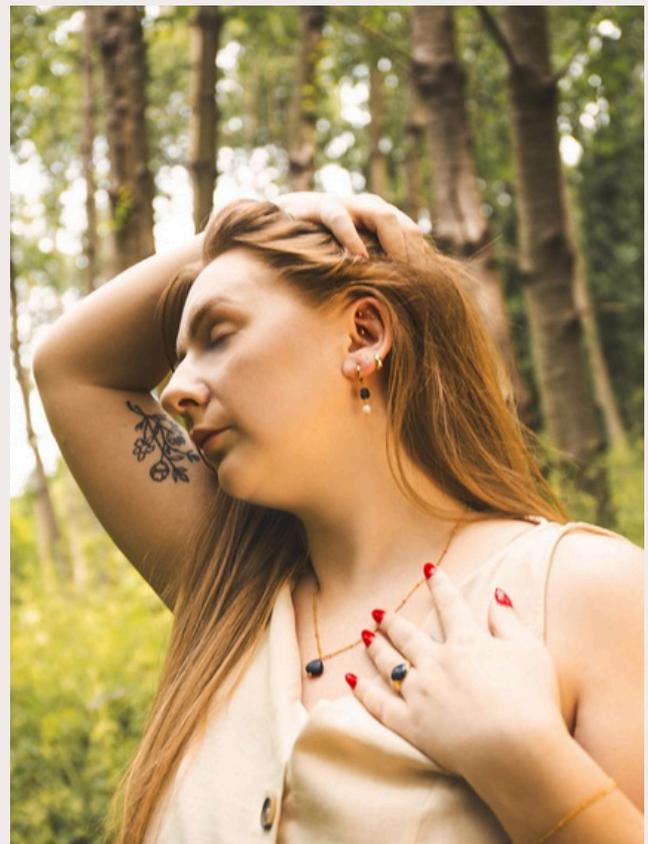

We keep things simple; everything is priced at 40% of the recommended retail price, so your margins are always clear and consistent.

- Minimum order value: £100
- Flat delivery fee: £10
- Free delivery on orders over £150
- Bulk discounts available on orders over £1000 – just ask
- Direct web orders require wholesale discount code

Perks of Partnering with Us

We value long-term relationships and offer thoughtful extras to support your success.

- Loyalty points on direct web orders, save and spend them on future discounts
- Habitat restoration funded with every order over £150
- Free displays available on request with qualifying orders
- Friendly, honest support whenever you need it

Packaging + Displays

We believe the magic of Aether & Nox begins the moment your customers see our jewellery. Every piece is beautifully packaged to reflect our ethereal, handcrafted spirit.

We use packaging that is either recyclable or biodegradable, and our postage materials are often reused or made from surplus supplies to help reduce waste.

Earrings are presented on premium branded backing cards, while rings come in elegant gift boxes. Necklaces and bracelets can be packaged in either premium branded gift boxes or soft cotton pouches, per your preference.

All accompanied by care instructions to help your customers keep their jewellery looking its best.

Our displays are generally unbranded to blend naturally with your existing setup, keeping the focus on the jewellery itself. POS also available upon request.

For larger custom orders, we can provide bespoke packaging solutions tailored to your requirements.

If you'd like to explore custom display ideas or need help arranging your space, please get in touch. We're happy to support you.
