DRUM MAJOR'S STAFFS

The Drum Major's Staff was introduced into the British Army in the 18th century. The staff is not simply a designation of authority but is used by defined drill movements to signal commands to the Band. Drum Majors' Staffs are made to order. It is customary for the regimental Staff to carry the Regimental or Unit title, Badge, Devices and on occasions Battle Honours, inscribed around the head. The Staff is fashioned from base metal or Sterling Silver, finished in silver plate or gold gilt. Best quality real Malacca canes are fitted. The average length overall of a Staff is 58 inches.

WHO WE ARE

Dalman & Narborough is a UK-based artisan metalworking studio, supplying the trade exclusively.

From our Birmingham workshop, we manufacture sporrans, sgian-dubhs, kilt pins, and belts inspired by Scotland's material culture and symbols. Each collection is designed to sit comfortably within premium retail environments, combining traditional forms with consistent quality, reliable supply, and clear storytelling.

Established in 1850, Dalman & Narborough remains one of the UK's last remaining artisan metal workshops dedicated to Highland regalia — trusted by leading outfitters in Scotland and beyond as a long-term manufacturing partner.
