Our name says it all

We can trace our heritage all the way back to 1812 when sailing ships brought their precious cargoes from the New World into the port of Leith.

When Andrew Melrose founded Melrose's tea company few could have imagined the worldwide trading company that would follow. In fact it was Andrew, who in 1835, was the first merchant to land tea in Britain on the Tea Clipper Isabella.

From its very beginnings the Melrose's name has been completely synonymous with quality and is one that we are honoured to be associated with. Edinburgh Tea and Coffee Company was formed as a management buy out from Melrose's thirty years ago and we are proud that our experts continue with this fine tradition and maintain the same high standards today as Andrew Melrose insisted upon 200 years ago.

Today, Edinburgh Tea and Coffee have grown from being a small local roaster into a modern tea and coffee producer within spacious tailor made premises in the capital. But something that hasn't changed is the ability of our master blenders and roasters to source the finest tea leaves and coffee beans from around the world and use traditional artisan methods to create a range of very special teas and coffees.

We are proud to carry on this heritage in Edinburgh to this day.

Single Origin & Blended Coffees

We are proud to introduce our renowned versions of signature coffees from around the world. From Brazil to Sumatra, our expertly roasted range captures the origin and individual characteristics of each coffee variety beautifully.

With a special roast for every occasion, our classic range is available both as whole bean or ground, meeting all your retail coffee needs.

Sumatra Lington

Our Lington single origin coffee is grown in a relatively small region just southwest of Lake Toba. Small plots of coffee shrubs are scattered over a high, undulating plateau of fern-covered clay. The coffee is grown without shade, but also without chemicals of any kind, and almost entirely by small holders.

Presently, coffee producers and Honduras government have made it their mission to improve the quality of coffee.

Tea

We continue to source our tea from the established tea growing countries of India, Sri Lanka, Kenya and China as well as from emerging tea growing countries such as Indonesia.

Only the best tea leaves are chosen for our teas, they are picked from selected plantations and blended to give a rich colour and full flavour in the cup.

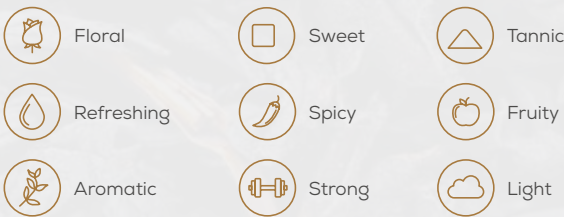

“ Only the best tea leaves are chosen for our teas ”

Whilst all tea comes from the same plant, the Camellia Sinensis, literally hundreds of kinds of teas exist, each with their own individual appearance, taste and aroma.

Like coffee, every harvest of tea will vary year to year due to changes in climate, rainfall, and other seasonal conditions.

Loose Tea

Flavour Key:

Assam Bop

Grown in the region of Assam, India, this tea is drunk traditionally in the afternoon with a piece of rock sugar and a cloud of cream.

EDCL01 | (1x500g) | £15.00

Acerola

These 3 fruits found each other and started a rather interesting friendship: the acerola cherry, which is becoming more sought after, the popular fig and the classical, always in-style sour cherry. Together, they present a decoration of glowing colours on our black tea base and the fusion of all their flavours will make you dream of summer all year round.

EDCL45 | (1x500g) | £18.50

Arabian Magic

Delicious fruits such as juicy plums and fresh elderberries provide a harmonious, fruity and somewhat mysterious frame for the already perfect taste of the berry blend. This full, fruity classic with its charming decoration of blossoms is a very special treat.

EDCL43 | (1x500g) | £20.00

Blue Lady

This is a citrus scented blend of loose black tea with exotic flowers. A tea to really excite the taste buds! It is a great alternative to the ever-popular Earl Grey. Try this as an iced tea for a refreshing drink on a warm day.

EDCL02 | (1x500g) | £15.00

Camomile Flowers

Chamomile is commonly known as the kind of tea which you drink when you are suffering a cold. However this dried blossom makes a very appropriate drink, being mild and caffeine free in every season. (People also like using it to pamper their skin in the vapour of a hot chamomile bath.)

EDCL40 | (1x250g) | £12.50

Ceylon Broken Orange Pekoe

A Tea of exceptional quality grown on Sri Lanka's highlands at altitudes of up to 2 kilometres. The finely worked, slightly wiry, red leaf, glowing copper coloured cup and the well-balanced, highly aromatic flavour are the main characteristics of this special blend.

EDCL07 | (1x1kg) | £19.00

China Gunpowder

Gunpowder, also known as "Zucha" or "Pearl Tea" is carefully dried in rotating drums. The flavour of this "Temple of Heaven" is mellow and less tart than those of similar standard qualities. Multiple brewing's further reduce the caffeine content and make this tea even more wholesome.

EDCL16 | (1x1kg) | £25.00

Cranberry & Acai

The aromas of these two fruits, which are naturally rich in minerals and vitamins and very well-known to us by now. Bright cranberry slices relax like a true prima donna on a bed of green, "iron" nettle and verbena leaves.

EDCL41 | (1x500g) | £20.00

Darjeeling FTGFOP

A medium, almost black leaf as well as a light, brass coloured cup characterises this quality with its fresh, slightly spicy character. Picked at late first flush and always an indulgence!

EDCL10 | (1x500g) | £35.00

Decaffeinated

Due to the very careful decaffeination procedure, we can still appreciate the dark brown, very well-worked leaf with golden tips. The cup unfolds a light tannic, malty aroma with a hint of chocolate.

EDCL11 | (1x500g) | £25.00

Earl Grey

The absolute classic among flavoured black teas. The noble, tangy, lemony aroma of the bergamot is known and loved around the world.

EDCL12 | (1x500g) | £12.00

English Breakfast

This breakfast blend is very yielding, presents a dark cup with a lot of power and a malty spiciness and is best drunk with a dash of milk or cream and a little sugar.

EDCL13 | (1x1kg) | £14.90

Gaba Oolong

This Japanese green tea, produced under special conditions, is grown near the city of Osaka. Nitrogen is added to a traditional fresh tea which is then stored in sacks for 15 hours. The leaf is rough, open and slightly worked, it presents a brassy infusion with a soft, tangy bouquet and subtle buttery echoes.

EDCL46 | (1x500g) | £33.50

Ginseng Oolong

The premium Ginseng Oolong comes from the Chinese province of Hainan and is based on high quality green Oolong. The youngest sprouts are dusted with a fine coat of powdered ginseng and liquorice root after being withered, rolled and dried. The tea can be infused more than once, but the first two infusions are the best!

EDCL47 | (1x500g) | £38.50

Green China with Jasmine Blossom

Various flowers, spices and extracts were used in ancient China to flavour tea. Many elaborate processes were tried and tested till the intensity of scents and flavours was reached. Jasmine tea is one of the classics with its light-yellow cup colour and typical delicately flowery flavour.

EDCL17 | (1x1kg) | £21.90

Green Tea (Chun Mee)

This traditional Chinese tea has influenced the European tea lovers' idea of green tea with a very typical green tea taste, tangy aroma and slight sweetness. If you find this tea too strong, you may pour away the first brew and enjoy the second, milder brew afterwards.

EDCL15 | (1x1kg) | £20.00

Heather

Real heather blossom blended into a quality mixture of rich African and Assam teas with Scottish soft water in mind. Milk is optional.

EDCL35 | (1x500g) | £10.50

Keemun

Keemun is without doubt one of the most popular tea varieties of China. Thanks to its very low content of tannins it is very wholesome, with a sweet-spicy, slightly smoky bouquet. The cup colour glows dark red with copper brown reflections.

EDCL18 | (1x1kg) | £20.00

Lapsang Souchong

Instead of plucking the youngest leaves, the larger and riper "Souchong" leaves are selected. After fermentation, these leaves are put on hot iron plates and roasted for a short time and then the tea is smoked over exotic woods rich in resin. The resulting taste is that of smoke and spice.

EDCL20 | (1x500g) | £20.00

Lemon & Ginger

Fruity and fresh lemon-grass and spicy ginger match perfectly, while liquorice contributes the extra touch of finesse. This herb tea is not spicy but obtains a natural sweetness from the added liquorice. Can also be served chilled.

EDCL48 | (1x500g) | £24.50

Mint Madness

Contains Europe's ever popular field mint, water mint and also peppermint, which is cultivated as an economic plant sold in pharmacies. It's also popular for its relaxing effects. Hot or cold, the infusion is a real thirst-quencher with a delicious and vitalising minty taste.

EDCL08 | (1x500g) | £16.00

Peppermint Herbs

The peppermint herb was discovered in the 17th Century on an English mint field. Only the finest leaves are used for consumption. The typical taste is due to the high contents of ethereal oils, which consist of 60% Menthol.

EDCL24 | (1x500g) | £18.00

Persimon
