UNIQUENESS GUARANTEED

Craftsmanship is at the heart of our glass lamps, so each lamp is hand-blown using traditional methods. The true art form, however, lies within the techniques using a variety of patented technologies, such as combining single and/or multiple coloured glaze powder. This has resulted in a clear display of textures and layers that are unique to every single piece.

Note: You may find the product name with • in another shape.

OUR MISSION

Emotions are shared by all of us and what matters the most to us is to bring quality designs and products that do not only look good but also touch hearts and souls. We have been doing so since 2010 and with your continuous support and feedback, we will continue this pursuit and look forward to more of you joining us on this journey.

WHO ARE WE?

Welcome to our creative community that began its journey in the vibrant city of London! Our team consists of passionate individuals who have come together to pursue a shared mission.

We love collaborating with talented sculptors and artists who have gained recognition in their respective fields. Their expertise helps us bring a wonderful collection of products to life, all in line with our unique vision.

If you're excited about joining us on this adventure, we invite you to express your interest by registering with us. Once you're approved, we'll create a personalised online account for you. This account will grant you access to our website, where you can easily place orders, browse through captivating images, and explore our catalogue.

Beyond our mission, we hold strong ethical values close to our heart. We are committed to partnering only with established suppliers who share our concerns for the environment, ethical labour practices, and social justice. Your support helps us uphold these important criteria.

Thank you for considering being a part of our journey. We look forward to welcoming you to our community of creativity and conscious consumption!

SHIPPING

Our warehouse is based in the UK and we offer next-day delivery for most part of the mainland UK if all items are in stock.

If you are based elsewhere, please do not hesitate to contact us for further assistance.

Please note dimensions provided in this catalogue are approximate and some products may vary in colours subject to the design. For any other unanswered questions that you may have, drop us a line via email or simply give us a ring as we are here to help.
