Why TEMBO PEOPLE is the best choice

TEMBO has supplied some great people for us over the last year. The people they provide not only integrate themselves as a key part of the team to deliver a campaign, they also provide valuable creative and strategic thinking. TEMBO is always my first phone call if I'm in need of cover.

Phil Boas, Brand Director, Ascential

TEMBO has been the perfect solution for us. We needed maternity leave cover and Kate and her team have worked within our financial constraints to provide a layered approach to the project meaning we have the right skill and expertise at the right time. It's flexible, innovative and responsive to our business needs.

Ben Cordle, Marketing Director, New Scientist

TEMBO are always my first port of call as they offer a unique service for the events industry. Having someone to call on that can provide clued-up marketers who can hit the ground running is an innovative and valuable resource... It's easy to see why TEMBO has provided the majority of my freelance and temporary marketing resource requirements this year.

Duncan Reid, Event Director, Clarion
