Session Title: Lessons and Thoughts on Alberta's Energy Transitions, Past, Present and Future

Keynote Speaker: Mr. Peter Tertzakian, Managing Director, ARC, Canada

Session Description:

In Canada, the province of Alberta is privileged to be rich with almost every kind of primary energy source. The vast lands offer abundant natural resources, from agriculture and forestry (biofuels), to coal, oil, natural gas, wind, and sun. Critical minerals and other raw materials for clean energy systems enhance the smorgasbord of offerings. Over the past 150 years the province has grown its economy by building infrastructure opportunistically around different energy sources. Evolving market demand--domestic and export--has led to energy transition, transformation, and diversification to provide customers the type of energy they want. The knowledge gained from Peter's analysis holds relevance not only for investors but also for energy producers and policymakers operating in energy-producing jurisdictions worldwide.

Session Title: The Goals and the Goalposts: Advancing Sustainable Solutions through a Canadian Policy and Regulatory Lens

Session Description:

Strong connections and transparent dialogue between policy-makers, regulators and industry is critical whether the focus is on responding to growing global demand, adequate energy infrastructure, sustainability efforts or attracting international investment through a predictable regulatory framework. Join the conversation to hear leading experts discuss the core question of how to ensure Oil & Gas infrastructure keeps pace with demand while being mindful of sustainability and the implications on much-needed investments into Canada's evolving energy sector.

Moderator: Mr. Martin Ignasiak, Head of Regulatory Practice, Bennett Jones, Canada

Panelist: Ms. Karen Taylor, Vice Chair, Council for Clean and Reliable Energy, Canada

Panelist: Mr. David Schick, Vice President, Western Canada Innovation and Regulatory Affairs, Canada

Panelist: Ms. Lisa Baiton, President, CAPP, Canada

Panelist: Ms. Charlene Johnson, CEO, Energy NL, Canada

TUESDAY, 19 SEPTEMBER 2023

11:15 - 12:15 | Auditorium 2 | Plenary Session

Session Title: A New Model for Global Industrial Innovation & Decarbonisation

Session Description:

Moving beyond the grab-bag of buzzwords in the energy transition, this interactive 'Ted Talk' & panel will explore how major industrial players formed a new model for industrial innovation in Canada that is now being exported around the world to the United States, India, Vietnam and the Netherlands. Unique in the Avatar Innovations model is the empowerment of employees in large cap energy firms to collaborate on breakthrough technologies and bring them to market at record speed. Learn from some of Canada's most senior energy leaders on how to reinvigorate the energy workforce of the future to solve some of the planet's biggest challenges.

Moderator: Hon. Gary Mar, CEO, Canada West Foundation

Panelist: Mr. Kevin Krausert, CEO and Co-Founder, Avatar Innovations Inc.

Panelist: Mr. Byron Neiles, Executive Vice President & Chief Administrative Officer, Enbridge

Panelist: Mr. Drew Zieglgansberger, EVP Natural Gas & Technical Services, Cenovus

Panelist: Ms. Deborah Yedlin, CEO, Calgary Chamber of Commerce

Session Title: Collaborating on CCUS Projects to Drive Deployment Success

Session Description:

Major aspirations require major action. Carbon capture, utilization, and storage (CCUS) shows promise as a set of connected technologies that may facilitate significant GHG reductions across sectors. CCUS collaboration opportunities are also international in potential as the world grapples with emissions challenges that know no boundaries. This session will focus on how collaborative action – including learnings from existing projects – may be the catalyst for accelerated adoption and implementation. Attendees will also hear about the 11 engineering and design CCUS studies – backed by Emissions Reduction Alberta – that span sectors from electricity and oil and gas to pulp and paper, fertilizer and cement production. Project proponents anticipate operations within the next decade and the diverse learnings that flow from each will serve global knowledge-sharing efforts. The panel will also highlight unique partnership structures, business models and indigenous community engagement frameworks..

Moderator: Mr. Bill Whitelaw, Managing Director, geoLOGIC systems Ltd.

Panelist: Mr. Justin Riemer, CEO, Emissions Reduction Alberta (ERA)

Panelist: Ms. Sherri Evers, Snr. VP, Sustainability, Commercial Development and Product Solutions Imperial Oil

Panelist: Mr. Stephen Mason, CEO & Senior Managing Director, Project Reconciliation

WEDNESDAY, 20 SEPTEMBER 2023

11:30 - 12:30 | Auditorium 2 | Fireside Chat

Session Title: Striking a Balance: Effective Relationships and Partnerships Between Industry and Community

Session Description:

Key to effective project development, planning and execution is engagement with local communities and ensuring their voices are an integral part of the process. This session will showcase the ambitious community engagement strategy and partnership journey embarked upon by the proponent of Canada's Trans Mountain Pipeline linking the province of Alberta to the West Coast. With an unwavering commitment to early and ongoing engagement with the communities impacted by the pipeline, Trans Mountain Pipeline was able to establish trust and a sense of mutual prosperity as a core tenet to the project. Hear from the former CEO of Trans Mountain Pipeline alongside a former Indigenous Chief and former Community Mayor as they recount their combined efforts, experience and shared learnings in respect of this project and other important developments in creating meaningful partnerships between industry and communities.

Moderator: Mr. Ian Anderson, Retd. CEO, Trans Mountain Expansion (TMX), Canada

Panelist: Chief Billy Morin, Managing Director, Axxcelus Capital Advisory, Canada

Panelist: Mr. Henry Braun, Former Two-Term Mayor, Abbotsford, Canada

Session Title: Financing the Energy Transformation in Canada

Session Description:

Investment in the global energy sector has been prone to volatility and capital flows into the Canadian energy sector are no different. With Canadian energy in the spotlight based on the elevated need for energy security and responsible development along with a bullish outlook on energy transformation and diversification, the focus on capital flows into the Canadian energy market has never been greater. Join the panel who will discuss their perspectives on Canadian energy from the investment community and the opportunities for Canadian energy going forward..

Moderator: Mr. David Chelich, Sector Head, Global Energy and Diversified Industries, Toronto Stock Exchange & TSX Venture Exchange, Canada

Panelist: Ehren Cory, President and CEO, Canada Infrastructure Bank, Canada

Panelist: Adam Waterous, CEO, Waterous Energy Fund, Canada

Panelist: Ms. Chana Martineau, Indigenous CEO, Alberta Indigenous Opportunities Corporation, Canada
