

About us

Opus Safety provides clear-cut compliance and consultancy services that make solid financial sense.

For over a decade, our team of qualified safety managers and ex-enforcement officers have helped businesses exceed their legal requirements and make compliance a core part of their culture.

We believe health and safety shouldn't be a hurdle. So we make it simple, smart and commercially sound.

You work with experienced sector specialists to set key compliance goals – and implement the tools, tactics and training to achieve them.

- Skilled support, planning and delivery.
- No long-term contracts.
- No upselling – and no costly extras you don't need.
